Half and Half from Msgr. Gary Smetanka

Today we celebrate the start of Catholic Schools Week. For many, many years, Catholic schools were in relative abundance, especially in the Archdiocese of Detroit. If you are old like me, remember the time when almost every parish had their own school and there was great competition between them. Now, of course, there are few Catholic schools and still some competition, however the competition might be more for existence than anything else!

So many thousands of people are products of Catholic schools. When you get them talking, they usually focus on the treatment some received from "the nuns" in elementary school. There certainly are some pretty good stories out there! The stories you hear about the treatment from some of the religious brothers or priests in high school were also frightening and comical. Nonetheless, there are also many testimonies about the formation, above and beyond the education, they received in Catholic school. The dedicated and passionate teachers in Catholic schools were always seeking to provide much more than the mere academic aspect of school for they were concerned about all aspects of life in our current world. They were concerned about a respectful social life, a life of service to others, a healthy lifestyle and certainly a solid life not only knowing the faith but in the living and practice of the faith.

Do Catholic schools still have a place in the educational system? Absolutely. They are still generally known and respected for their discipline, higher standards in education and of course the passing on of the faith and its integration in life. Are they perfect? No. No school or school system is. Are they still important in the formation of future vocations for the Church? Absolutely. Even with the decline of religious sisters, brothers, and priests teaching in the schools, the Catholic mission and philosophy continues and generates vocations for the Church. There are so many wonderful aspects of Catholic schools, it is no wonder why many, many people who are products of them will say in a heartbeat, "I'd choose them again."

Our school has a long history of excellence in a solid education as well as faith formation. Thanks to all of you who are so supportive of Catholic schools in general and certainly our own parish school. Yes, parish schools are expensive to the parish as well as to the school families, but they are priceless in the formation of the students and the community.

** Thanks again for your faithful stewardship to the parish. Remember your Sunday envelope each and every Sunday. A very easy and helpful way to steady stewardship to the parish is through FaithDirect. (You can get more information by visiting faith.direct/MI1044 or calling 866-507-8757).

** A reminder that all volunteers in our parish and parish organizations must be certified in protecting God's children programs and with a completed background check.

** Saturday is the Feast of St. Blase. A universal Blessing of Throats will take place at next weekend Masses as the final blessing.

** Prayers, please, for our second grade students. Last week they received the Grace from the Sacrament of Reconciliation for the first time. Pray for their continued understanding and love the Mass and the Eucharist as they continue to come to Sunday Mass every week with their family in preparation for their First Holy Communion.

Have a great week in the Lord's peace. Continue to pray for one another (and for the Lions!).

What does it mean to have a Mass “offered” for someone?

An individual may ask a priest to offer a Mass for several reasons: for example, in thanksgiving, for the intentions of another person (such as on a birthday), or, as is most common, for the repose of the soul of someone who has died.

It is worth noting, however, that the offering of the Mass for that intention does not depend on it being publicly voiced but on it being specified in the priest’s personal prayers. Similarly, if a priest announces that “I am offering this Mass for [such and such an] intention” he does not thereby require the rest of the congregation to pray for that intention or to make their own lay-offering of the Mass to be for that intention. The priest’s intention specifies the “special fruit” [3] chosen as his intention it does not specify that of the congregation.

Stewardship Thoughts

In today's Scripture passage from Deuteronomy, Moses prophesies about a future figure that God will raise up from the Israelite community, from their own kin. Moses professes: to him you shall listen. In the Gospel from St. Mark, Moses' ancient prophecy is fulfilled in Christ. It is Jesus, who speaks, heals, and drives out evil spirits with authority in the Capernaum synagogue. St. Paul encourages the Corinthians, in his First Letter, to commit themselves entirely to the Lord. As faith-filled stewards, we not only recognize Christ as the Great Prophet, but also support the bishops and others who observe and proclaim Jesus' teaching — His Truth — and prophesy against moral relativism and injustices of our day. It is imperative to contact our governmental officials by telephone, email, or letter about laws or proposed laws that oppose Church teaching.
